An Android TV box is perfect for people who want to enjoy their favourite OTT platform on television. For the lovers of binge-watch, it is delightful that they can access applications like Netflix and Amazon Prime on their televisions. To convert your TV into an Android device, all you have to do is pair the TV box with it either via Bluetooth or HDMI connection. Once that is done, your TV can be used as a smart TV. Apart from accessing multimedia, you can play games on your TV, although the gaming operations will be minimal it will be fun and worth trying.
